AGREEMENT ARRANGED BYTWEE TRANSCONTINENTAL RAULROAD LINES.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Feb. 25. Judge Chas. Mason I died early this morning after a short libres. Judge Mason was one of the pioneers of lows and a preminent democrat. He was born at Pounpai, Ouerida county. New York, in 1804, and graduated at West Point at the head of the class, of which Robt. E. Lee and Jefferson Davis were members, in 1827. He was assistant profess r in the academy two years, and in 1835 editor of the New York Pad. while William Cullen Bryant was abroad. He came to Burlington in 1837, and was appointed by President Van Buren, chief justice of the herritory of lowa, holding their office until 1846. He was author of the cole of 1851, and under its provisions elected judge of Des Motnes county. In May, 1833, he was appointed commissioner of patents, but resigned in 1857. After that he was connected a short time with the Scientific Imerican, and in 1860 established an office at Washington, where his practice was devoted exclusively SCECIAL DISPATCRES TO THE OREGONIAN

An Attempt to Muzzle the Press.

OMAIA, Feb. 20.—A special from Wahoo says early this morning a party of masked mon broke fall the Independent office for the purpose of destroying the press and material. They entered by a rear door, inglied a lamp and commenced the work of destruction, when they were addenly controuted by one of the publishers and a son of the editor, with pictols, who told them to throw up their hands. The party did so, but one the intruders hid behind, door and caught the piatot hand of one of the publishers. A mesee ensued, and the burglars recovered from their surprise, railled and ovargowered those on guard and captured their pistols. The burglars fiel, fearing discovery, Later in the day Frank Morsy, Bob Nye, Doade, Henson and Datch were arrested and bound over. The editor declares the attack was instituted by a member of the town board, whose conduct had been criticised by the paper. A majority of citizens sustain the paper. An Attempt to Muzzle the Press,

Murray, Judge Horeman, Rev. McNece and Gon. Baue activered stirring addresses and the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, The petitions of Mormons memorializing congress not to disturb the quiet of Cah directly commit svery Mormon' to endorsement or Patys' any in defiance of laws; and

Whereas, These same partions by their signatures reveal the absolute slavery of the Mormon people to their chief; and. Whereas, These same partitions by their eignatures reveal the absolute slavery of the Mornon people to their chief; and.

Whereas, The frantic exertions of Mornon leaders to put off the possibility of entorcing the laws in Utah, show their mertal terror at the prospect of losing pointies power; now, therefore, the lading anti-polygany society of Utah, being composed of old residents of this territory, who are familiar with the situation here, do hereby Resolve, For more than thirty years Utah has been under control of this unlawful element, and that under that control this herritory has been made a mere dependency of a hostile creed; the rights of real citizens have been stodidly denied; the ballot has been prostituted, women dishonored, and overy sacred element of home destroyed.

Resolved, That every mercy of the government extended to the Mormons has been scoffed at by them; that the fathere of the government to enact effective laws has been treated as an interposition of Ood to protect this people, and that every weakness of the government in falling to make its law sovereign has been used to strengthen this kingdom, Resolved, That the government of the United States can no longer afford to leave the control of a great territory in the hands of a people who hold a higher allegiance to the heads of a creed than to the receivable.

Mormons all political priviteges until they conclude to accept as adversing the laws of the United States.

Resolved, That congrass owas it as a duty to the government and the oyal people of this country, to amalgamate the Edmunds, the Shallenberger and Willetts bills, and make of them a law for the government by Ital, until by their submission its the laws the majority here shall prove that they are only titled to be trusted as citizens.

Resolved, That the Edmunds bill alone is fatally defective, insomuch as while it forbids the boiling of office and the estercise of the franchise by polygramists, it provides no effective redress against the perjury of men who are not bound by an oath, and if passed in its present form there is great danger that it will, like the anti-polygramy law of 1892, become a dead letter on the statute books.

Resolved, That we believe that a Commission of sterling disticens of this territory given fail legislative powers and working under the supervision of congress is the only real, prompt and merciful remedy for Utah's swrongs.

Recolved, That the crosk of the Mormons that the enforcement of the laws of the Unifed States will cause a lustiness depression is a matter which congress should not consider until a metail trade is doesned of more importance than the great principles on which the republic rests.

Suchanow during his examination drew such a vivid picture of the abnormal excial conditions that had driven him, an honorable sensitive nam, to a career of crime, that even the judges were deeply affected. Jarkimawa acknowledged the truth of charges brought against her. Jeneicks, who is unceducated, admitted being a terrorist, but was unable to define the alms of that party. Miskleroff continued his endeavors to criminate his associates. All accused declared they were socialists, willing occarry on peaceful propagands, but they had been driven to filegal acts by government crucitles. PROPOSED PENSION LEGISLATION. So many interests and such vast sums are in volved in legislation now before congress relating to pensions, that the subject is exciting much attention. Representative Jayre, of Vermout, chairman of the committee on pensions bounty and back pay, recently made a statement concerning bills of this class. He says that the committee will undoubtedly favor retention of the present laws granting arrears of pensions, as they would not think it just or equitable to now repeal the statute. A matter i of importance now before the committee is contained in a number of blils providing for pensioning men who were confined in confederate prisons. These bills provide for pensioning all prisoners, whother they were wounded. whether they contracted disease, or disability, or whether they are perfectly sound and well. Mr. Joyce says that the matter has not been discussed before the committee and it is not 26 sible to predict what the result will be. Mambers in commenting on the subject have ressed different views, and it is thought that majority will oppose the proposition. ither bill provides for pensioning men in the ha iway, revenue, mail and life-saving services. The committee, Mr. Joyce thinks, will probably favor pensioning the life-saving service. but not the mail and revenue services, which are shrewdly incorporated in a bill with the former. The men backing the life saving clause of the bill make a strong case, but members of the committee fear to establish a precor ent of pensioning the civil service. Another by I restores the examining less of surgoons to $0. at which itswarefixed by the act of March S. 1878. In the last congress it was reduced to $1. The proposition to restore will probably be reported favorably and pass the house, as it seems to be little. The commisted considered the sixty surgeons bill advocated by Mr. Beniley, and saked Commissioner Dudley to give a statement anto what he desires in the master of investigating pension claims. He he would like $67,000 to make up the deciencies in clark lifre for the present fiscal year, and $18,000 to make promotions in the bureau. The committee have considered this and recdescribed it to the committee on appropri-lith regard to the future workings of the office in the investigation of doubtful claims, Commissioner Dudley, recently appearing before the pensions committee, said that under the system he had introduced in the office he sonds special symmetry into the country to examine these claims, being very careful to select men whom he knows are fitted for the business. In addition he appoints a board of surgeone at prominent points throughout the country who can be called tegether at any time. These boards call before them peners, examine them medically, if necessary, and sablect them to a judicial investigation, k-ngithe pensioner to bring a witness. The missioner said that he was well satisfied with the result of this method, and that it was actiled and competent men who are capable of Northern Pacific; and as well, the vast comstamining the cases locally and passing upon mercial interests between the castern and midthem. THE CLOTURE IN ENGLAND. A vast deal of twaddle has been written both England and America about Ghalstone's doture (closure) resolution, the premier's opmositida to such a measure several years agofarmishing occasion and excuse for it. Being pretty generally misunder-tood, the cluture has been abused as an attempt to imposo a gag law upon an obstreperous parliament. In fact, it merely formulates a rule of procedure for the English parliament such as has been adopted in nearly every other legislative body in the world, a leading exception being the United States senate. To all intents and purposes it is what we know as the previous question, with a few conditions evidently designed to afford some protection to a reasonable minority against its arbitrary use. . The only wonder is that legislation in England has niet with so little unreasonable obstruction in the absence of some such method as cloture to . shat off the gas of tedious or willful abstructionists. But the facties of the Irish party last year showed how the proceedings of parlia SMELT! ment could be virtually brought to a standstill and a majority, no matter how large or well fortisied in public support, would be at the mercy of a small and cantankerous minority. It is apparently a remedy for a known and serious ovil, and one necessary as a safeguard against waste of time or a willful interruption of legislative work. The chief objection urged against it in England is that the cloture is apdicable by the will of a bare majority. As a measure to expedite public business it would be useless if more than a majority were necessary to make it applicable. Majorities in such bodies as parliament are responsible for all legislation. How seldom they abuse their power by GILMAN & CO. AUCTIONEERS the enforcement of such means as the cluture to the detriment of free discussion, is exemplifled by the experience of legislative bodies in this country, where the previous question is seldom brought into use in an arbitrary and unjust way. It would seem that such a neces-body should have commonded itself to the good sense of all members of parliament, and that

We reprint to-day from a Montana paper of date two years back, a letter by Gen. Nelson A. Miles, then in command of the Yellowstone military district, to the senate and house committees on railroads. In this letter it will be seen that Gen. Miles, arguing in the line of good business policy, takes ground in favor of allowing the Northern Pacific Railroad Com. At the Residence No. 175 Fearth Street, Morrison and Kambill, pany to rotain its original land grant, and gives sound reasons for this stand. London Globs, Jan. 22.

The Laws of the class in France are constantly affording material for discussion in the law courts but it is seidom that a more open question is thus presented for decision that that which becompied the civil tribune of Romen a few days ago. It appeared that a gentleman, who would be called in England a master of kounds, was junting one day in October in this forest of Romener, with a number of friends. At I o'clock, long after darkness had set in, he came back from the chase with all the thirty hounds comprising his pack except two, which could not be called off from following the quarry. This stag had made his way to the top of a precipice, where it was brought to bay by its pursuers. The combat seems to have lasted in the darkness till nearly 10 volock at night, when the stag became exhausted and was driven over the clift, felling drad in the fields of a certain M. Lemel. This individual, whose ideas of sport were on a level with those of many Frenchman is the present day, quietly proceeded to cut up the prize which had fallen into his possession, and devoured the joints in company with his good friends. The ewner of the hounds thereupon brought this action, claiming 500 francs damages for the "misapropelation" of the animal. The judges pronounced a lengthy verdict in favor of the defendant and refused to give any redress to the complainant. The chief ground of the decision was the fact that the master had gone home and abaudoned the chase, thus leaving the hounds and their prey to high if out between themselves as weritable form nature. It would appear from this that to constitute the aport of hunting there must be a concurrent action of man and dog, and that as soon as either gives up the chase the sport is at an end. A found which is hunting without any owner following behind is, from a legal point of view, not hunting at all. What Constitutes Munting?
